Are Proud to announce the

Launch of India's FIRST Leadership in Public Health Management Course 2008

Globally, the public health work force has undergone a change. Public Health has emerged as a convergent domain for all disciplines in social and health sciences, today, Graduates and Postgraduates from various disciplines in the medical field are all working together as a public health team for their communities and are contributing their expertise in this exciting and challenging task.

The course is designed to build leadership and management skills, which will create trained professional cadres of competent managers who will make an impact in the field of public health of our country.

We will prepare you for exciting careers in public health to play leadership roles in international agencies, like the UN, WHO, World Bank, International Foundations, NGO's/CBO's, funding organizations, corporate social responsibility departments and public health programs of National and State Government. The course focuses on the potential and inclination of the students and facilitates them to develop their expertise in key areas of public health viz. Leadership, Health Management, Health Economics, Behavior Change Communication, Epidemiology, Primary Health Care, Reproductive and Child Health, Disease surveillance, International Health etc.
