SCHEME FOR INTERNAL ASSESSMENT MARKS

IV BDS - NEW COURSE

To assess the overall progress of the student by evaluating the professional skill he / she has developed and the knowledge he / she has got, it is necessary to assess the students periodically. The marks to be allotted should be real estimate of the student's achievement of skills and subject knowledge without any prejudice.

1. Maximum marks allotted for Internal Assessment for each subject head, i.e. theory and practical/clinical, will be 10% of the total marks.
2. In all, three college tests shall be conducted in one academic year. Each test will have marks as under.

	Theory	Practical/Clinical
First Internal Assessment Test	03 marks	03 marks
Second Internal Assessment Test	03 marks	03 marks
Preliminary Examination	04 marks	04 marks
Total	10 marks	10 marks

- a) First Internal Assessment Test should be conducted for the syllabus completed up to winter vacation and examination shall be conducted immediately after winter vacation.
 - b) Second Internal Assessment Test should be conducted for the syllabus completed in the First term and to be conducted two months after winter vacation.
 - c) Preliminary examination should include entire syllabus prescribed by the University (Preliminary Examination) and to be conducted at the end of March.
3. All the records of this examination will have to be maintained by the Head of Departments and will have to be produced for verification.
 4. All records of these examinations shall be preserved up to the commencement of the next University examination for that batch, by the Head of Department, in consultation with the Dean/Principal.
 5. The marks of all three Internal Assessment Tests shall be submitted to the Controller of Examinations in the proforma as shown in Appendix - "D", by HoD, through the Dean/Principal of the college before 20 days of the commencement of the University theory examinations by hand delivery or by Registered post.

Annexure 'C'

6. One additional examination should be arranged in the entire period of the course to help the student to avail the opportunity of compensating the loss due to his/her absence in any one of the Internal Assessment examinations (periodical/ terminal/preliminary). Those candidates whose genuineness of reason for the absence is verified and who are permitted by the Internal Assessment Committee to appear for the additional examination can appear for such examination. Such an additional examination should be arranged after Preliminary examination and before University examination, in any case before submitting the final result of Internal Assessment Examination to the University.
7. In case the candidate fails in the University Examination, he/she should be assessed afresh for Internal Assessment marks. The Internal assessment marks of this examination to be submitted to the University Authority.
8. For repeater students, only two examinations in the term will be conducted. Each test will be of 05 marks each. Thus college authority should submit marks out of 10 by applying the same schedule. The best out of two of the Internal Assessment marks (Previous Assessment/New Assessment) to be submitted to the University for the computation of marks. For pre-clinical subjects practical, each test will be of 10 marks each and thus college authority should submit marks out of 20.
9. The marks obtained by the candidate as Internal Assessment will not be taken into account for passing the subject head, but will be added to the aggregate of that subject head.
