Invitation:

Dear friends,
India is fast emerging as a hub for clinical trials. Many multinational Companies are outsourcing their trials to India. Skilled personnel, a varied ethnic population & cheaper cost are some of the main reasons for this growth. This invariably translates into better growth opportunities for the clinical research sector. The ethical concerns of the western world seldom hold true in the Indian context.

The regulations in India are being upgraded but they still have a long way to go before they are on par with the international regulations. Hence, it is of great importance that the clinical researchers are updated with the latest changes in the ethical guidelines & regulations in clinical research.

The unique feature of this conference will be the use of Audience Response System which will allow the audience to vote, express their views & actively participate with the speakers.

You are invited

- Medical UG/PG/Clinical Research Students, Pharmacist.
- Ethics Committee members.
- Investigators from hospital, Pharmaceutical Companies and Research Institutes.
- Clinical trials support staff and R&D staff.
